

Perspectives on the President's Commission

Friday, September 26, 2003, 9:30–11:30 a.m.
Wohlstetter Conference Center, Twelfth Floor, AEI

Earlier this year, President George W. Bush established the President's Commission on the United States Postal Service (USPS), which issued its final report and recommendations in August. In an effort to educate and invigorate public discussion on postal reform sparked by the commission, AEI has held a series of conferences to discuss the current and future state of the postal industry and various avenues potential reform might take. In the concluding conference, experts will present various reactions to the commission's report.
