

Audrey Van Belleghem

Business Lead, Facebook

Audrey Van Belleghem serves as business lead in Facebook's infrastructure group, managing the execution of complex, cross-functional operations and programs. One of the strategic initiatives she supports is Facebook's Return to Work Program, a 16-week immersive program designed for people who have been away from work for two years or longer and are looking to reenter the workforce full time. Previous roles Ms. Van Belleghem has held include senior vice president of operations and the Grace Hopper Celebration at AnitaB.org, a nonprofit organization supporting women in technology, and chief of staff of engineering at NetApp, a Fortune 500 company providing storage and data management solutions. Ms. Van Belleghem has been named a Woman of Influence by the Silicon Valley Business Journal and has been recognized by the US Department of State as a technical mentor to women in the Middle East and North Africa. She holds a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from the University of California, Los Angeles, and a master's of business administration from the Haas School of Business, University of California, Berkeley.
